The question is not being considered in an immature way, either. All phases of the business are being gone into with the utimost deliberation and I assure you that once the question is decided there will be no turning back. The custom smelter operator stands between the producer and consumer of the various metals as a sort of middle nam, anyway, and unless he can decide to let the miner have a decent profit on his product, he will eventually be cut out of the business altogether. Individual companies, or a combination of them, can just as well run a smelter in their own behalf as not, and if that is the only road left op a to them, they will take it.

BEN BUTLER IMPROVING.

Chute of Milling Ore in East Drift is Most Promising.

According to Manager A. L. Jacobs, who returned from camp Thursday night, the ground at the end of the east drift in the Ben Butler is opening up most encouragingly. At the point Lamed, 800 feet east of the west side lines, a raise of thirty-odd feet has I made in ore the quality of which approves with every foot. It is now of a most desirable concentrating class and should it not change materially, it will still be a good revenue-producer. It is going up directly under the great blow-out on the surface, dipconsidered, and as very high-grade ore came from the old upper workings, no doubt is entertained that shipping material will shortly make its appearance. doubt is entertained that shipping material will shortly make its appearance. Samples brought in by Mr. Jacobs were submitted to the assayer yesterday and the returns showed it to contain 21 her cent lead, 11 ounces silver, $1 in gold and 1.2 per cent copper. The rock, though not tested for it yesterday, is counted upon to carry an excess of Iron over silica of at least 20 per cent, and by running two or two and one-half into one it will make fine concentrates.

Before his departure from camp. Manager Jacobs witnessed the loading of 100 tons of concentrates that were produced by reducing 216 tons of crude ore—the best lot of milling ore ever sent out from the mine. It will be on the market Monday.

CALIFORNIA'S PROSPECTS.

Judge Snyder Believes Creditors Will Give Company a Show. Will Give Company a Show.

From intormation released by W. I. Snyder yesterday, it seems most likely that no provision will be made at the special stockholders' meeting today to lift the company's mortgaged indebtedness. The judge stated that he had held a conference with some of the parties owning the mortgage and had stated to them that if the company was given a show the money would not be long forthcoming, and he was inclined to the opinion that the claim would not be pressed.

Should the mortgage be foreclosed, judgment could not be taken for six

Should the mortgage be foreclosed, judgmer could not be taken for six months, and the company would then still have rix months in which to redeem it. That would mean that the loan could not be collected for a year should the company show a disposition to delay matters that long.

BINGHAM CONVERTER PLANT. Manager McViche Expects to Start it Wednesday Next.

Manager McVichie of the Bingham Consolidated announced yesterday that the big blowers being installed in con-junction with the new converters at the company's smelter would be hooked up and given their initial run on Monday. By Wednesday the converters themselves will be ready to go into commission and no doubt is expressed that the turning out of copper-gold buillion will commence in earnest on Thursday, the first day of May, and continue uninterruptedly.

It is expected that President White and Messrs, O. P. Poscy and Clarence K. McCornick will drop into town about that time and witness the warming up of the magnificently equipped ip and given their initial run on Mon

At the forenoon call things looked pretty blue, the forced unloading of more than 25,000 May Day by one of the heavlest holders and the knocking of the price to 25½, having an unusually bad effect on patrons who were not familiar with the cause. In the afternoon shares in May Day, Ajax, Carisa and California were spread out in great profusion before the eyes of the investors, but play as it liked the unruly bear was routed and nearly every stock in the list closed considerably better than it opened.

After touching 41%, Ajax moved up to 44 cents and then eased off to 43% cents. Carisa, after opening on a sale at 34 cents, moved up and closed on a transfer at 35% cents.

New York, April 25.—William McCarty, aged 12, lost his life in Port Chester, Conn., says a World special, while trying to save his blind father, in the belief that he was in danger. The father lost his sight a few years ago by a premature blast in a quarry. The boy was playing with some companions, when he saw his father walking near the railroad and an express train approaching. The blowing of the whistle caused the boy to think that his father was in danger. He started across the tracks to save him and was struck by the train and instantly killed.

TO DETECT POISONS.

The Body Tries to Sweat Them Out. At a convention of medical men in St. Louis the effects of coffee drinking were carefully considered. It was unanimously agreed that while coffee does not seem to injure some persons, to others it is a rank poison. The ef-fect on different persons is, of course, very different. In some the heart is affected, in others the kidneys, again the stomach or bowels, or the eyes, and in nervous cases the prostration is spread over the whole body.

spread over the whole body.

As an illustration, a man in Hinton, W. Va., experienced well defined symptoms of poisoning from coffee. He says: "I used coffee a great many years with no apparent ill effects, but about nine years ago I began being sick. I became dull, lost my ambition, had dizziness, my eyesight was very bad and kept getting worse, and at times I could hardly navigate at all. I felt I was going to fall every minute, and finally became so bad I would have to sit down and rest three or four times in a distance of twice that many times in a distance of twice that many blocks.

"I went from one physician to an-other and faithfully took their prescriptions, but the case was so complex that they could not successfully diag-nose it. I finally went to New York City to the Vanderbilt Clinic for treat-City to the Vanderbilt Clinic for treatment. There my case was diagnosed as neurasthenia. Every morning about 9 I would have a kind of spasm. The perspiration would break out all over the palms of my hands, and my hair would be wringing wet, every nerve in the body would be affected and my heart would jump and beat at a fearful rate. This condition would generally last for about two hours. What I suffered no one can understand. "It finally came to me that these ter-

'It finally came to me that these ter-"It finally came to me that these terrible sweats and spasms were just the same as in cases where people are poisoned and nature tries to throw off the poison through the pores. So I concluded that something I was taking must act like a poison and I decided it was coffee. I left it off one morning and had a fearful headache all day, a sure sign that I was being held up by sure sign that I was being held up by a drug, so that evening I bought some Postum and the next morning had it for breakfast in place of coffee. I was surprised for I could hardly tell it from coffee. That day I was only a little coffee. That day I was only a little sick about the usual time, and from the next day until now, something over thirteen months, I have never felt even the remotest return of the spasins.
